- d. General Education Preparation for Goal #2 Inquiry and Analysis
 Can we write our own assessment? Take a look at this. Let's discuss. Does it make sense to test students on these skills, rather than looking at artifacts that are created naturally? There was a lot of work put in the last time this goal was assessed, but the wasn't really anything gained. Many schools are moving away from this goal and moving towards quantitative and qualitative analysis. Many schools are also moving away from Gen Ed outcomes and going to institutional outcomes.
