Dear Harold Washington College Community,

As we reach almost a year of the transition into the remote learning environment, I cannot help but reflect on how much things have changed. A word that immediately comes to mind is flexibility. Many of us, including our families and friends, had to adjust the way we usually do things. At HWC, we had to be flexible and continue to be, with just about everything, especially as we work to meet our students' needs. As time passes, we learn to adapt, evolve and find new inspirations. I am confident we will come out of this pandemic stronger and better than ever before. I hope everyone had a wonderful week.

As always, anyone is welcome to join my office hours via Zoom every Wednesday, from 3:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Here are the College Updates for this week:
